of Technology of 2 February 2026 regarding the suspension of the InterDoctus programme application process*

Suspension of the InterDoctus programme application process

I hereby inform that as of 1 February 2026, due to necessary spending limitations at the beginning of the year, the application process for the InterDoctus programme is suspended.

This decision remains in force until further notice.

Information about reopening the application process will be provided in a separate announcement published on the website of the Doctoral School of CUT and in the Microsoft Teams application.
